

The Emptiness I Feel Inside

There is an emptiness that I feel.
I feel like my world is upside down.
I feel like it is going to come crashing in,
and that sometimes God is nowhere near.
I feel as though I could cry,
but no tears will ever flow.
I don't know the answers why.
I just know the emptiness is there.

Only God can make this pain truly go away.
So please God I beg you.
I don't want to suffer any more.
Please allow me to feel myself again.
I don't want to endure so much pain.
Please let this pain beside.
I don't want to feel the emptiness inside.

I try to pray,
but sometimes no words will come out.
I have forgotten how to pray.
I know God loves me,
but the emptiness is still always there.

So my prayer to you God,
please take away the pain,
and let me feel one again,
So I don't always feel so numb.
Please show me the way.
I am watching now.
I will follow your lead.
Thank you Jesus. I love you!
