

Only God Knows Why

All this pain that I have is only what God has given me to handle.
Why I have trouble with my emotions, is because he is testing me to see how much I can actually handle.
Only God knows why.

Why do things keep going wrong,
and why do things seem unfair?
Why do I have a hard time grieving over my losses in my life?
Only God knows why.

Why do all these obstacles come my way,
and why do I have trouble with everyday life?
Only God knows why.

God would not give me these problems,
if he knew I could not handle them.
Only God knows why.
